

8 DECENT WORK AND
ECONOMIC GROWTH

SDG 8 DECENT WORK AND ECONOMIC GROWTH

Promote continuous, inclusive, sustainable economic growth and full employment. and having valuable work

Muban Chombueng Rajabhat University has a policy of fair and equal employment, established through regulations, announcements, and related rules. Additionally, the university organizes various projects and activities to promote economic growth.

1. Income Enhancement Project for Grassroots Farmers: Integrated Community Enterprise for Mulberry Cultivation and Silkworm Rearing

The "Income Enhancement Project for Grassroots Farmers: Integrated Community Enterprise for Mulberry Cultivation and Silkworm Rearing" is a project aimed at improving the income of farmers in rural areas through sustainable and integrated practices of mulberry cultivation and silkworm rearing. This project involves several stages of production, including growing mulberry trees, breeding silkworms, processing the silk, and marketing the products.

Promote continuous, inclusive, sustainable economic growth and full employment. and having valuable work

2. Organize a project to upgrade agricultural products in local communities

To provide knowledge on agricultural product processing of local economic crops and to add value to products that reflect the uniqueness and local wisdom for the agricultural community enterprise network under the Royal Initiative Extension Project in Khao Cha-ngum Subdistrict, Photharam District, Ratchaburi Province.

Promote continuous, inclusive, sustainable economic growth and full employment. and having valuable work

3. The organization of the Muay Thai competition for the Royal Trophy

The College of Muay Thai Studies and Traditional Thai Medicine organized a Muay Thai competition for the Royal Trophy to promote and spread the knowledge and art of Thai martial arts. The event aimed to introduce Thai Muay Thai fighting skills to children, youth, the general public, and foreigners, while also enhancing Muay Thai as an important tool for driving the creative economy in the country. Participants included youth from Ratchaburi Province and surrounding areas, as well as students from schools in Ratchaburi and neighboring provinces, ranging from elementary to higher education levels.

Promote continuous, inclusive, sustainable economic growth and full employment. and having valuable work

4. Enhancing capabilities based on cultural capital, "Muay Thai," towards a creative economy.

The College of Muay Thai Studies and Traditional Thai Medicine organized a workshop to train skills and techniques in Muay Thai, discover creative community products linked to Muay Thai martial arts for the creative economy, and develop prototype products based on community culture connected to Muay Thai fighting arts. This initiative is aimed at the people of Ratchaburi Province.

Promote continuous, inclusive, sustainable economic growth and full employment. and having valuable work

5. Enhancing community potential through soft power based on the identity of local art and culture.

The College of Muay Thai Studies and Traditional Thai Medicine organized a project to foster cooperation in developing cultural tourism routes through Muay Thai and to establish a cultural tourism route highlighting Muay Thai and Thai wisdom in Ratchaburi Province. This initiative aims to benefit local entrepreneurs and the general public in Ratchaburi.

Promote continuous, inclusive, sustainable economic growth and full employment. and having valuable work

6. The project to promote and support the overall happiness of the Jedsamian community.

The Faculty of Management organized a project to develop innovative performances and costumes that represent the identity of the Jedsamian community, while promoting and supporting the overall happiness of the community. This initiative aims to benefit the Kocha Ban Jedsamian Community Enterprise Group and the elderly group in Jedsamian Subdistrict, Photharam District, Ratchaburi Province.

Promote continuous, inclusive, sustainable economic growth and full employment. and having valuable work

7. The project aims to promote, develop, and create value for the distribution of community products to online platforms, focusing on the MARAH Leather Bag Community Enterprise Group.

The Faculty of Management organized a project to promote products related to distribution channels and the development of leather goods as souvenirs to online platforms. This initiative benefits the MARAH Leather Bag Community Enterprise Group in Kung Nam Won Subdistrict, Mueang District, Ratchaburi Province, as well as other community enterprise groups in Kung Nam Won Subdistrict, Ratchaburi Province.

Promote continuous, inclusive, sustainable economic growth and full employment. and having valuable work

8. The project aims to develop potential and promote grassroots economic careers to strengthen the community, focusing on the Mon community of Huai Nam Sai.

The Faculty of Management organized a project to develop products into OTOP goods and provide training on household accounting and product cost accounting for entrepreneurs. The goal is to enable the Mon community of Huai Nam Sai, Suan Phueng District, Ratchaburi Province, to manage their household accounts effectively.

Promote continuous, inclusive, sustainable economic growth and full employment. and having valuable work

9. The project aims to develop the beekeeping industry as a career path in Ratchaburi Province.

The Center for Science and Applied Science organized a project to share knowledge on the techniques of raising stingless bees and facilitate a discussion to exchange learning about beekeeping. Activities included teaching techniques for raising stingless bees, making beekeeping equipment, and producing products from stingless bees. This project aims to benefit stingless bee farmers in Ratchaburi Province.

Promote continuous, inclusive, sustainable economic growth and full employment. and having valuable work

10. The project aims to promote community empowerment in driving the grassroots economy based on the principles of the Sufficiency Economy Philosophy.

The Faculty of Humanities and Social Sciences organized a project to promote community careers by developing unique community products based on local resources. The project employs a participatory approach, involving community members in the process of thinking, doing, and benefiting from the collective efforts. This initiative aims to turn small community efforts into a driving force for the local economy, benefiting six communities and community enterprises in Ratchaburi Province.

Promote continuous, inclusive, sustainable economic growth and full employment. and having valuable work

11. The project aims to develop fabric patterns and traditional fabric products based on local culture to promote community careers.

The Faculty of Humanities and Social Sciences organized a project to promote community careers through the development of fabric patterns based on the identity of Ratchaburi Province. The project follows a participatory approach, resulting in community products that can be sold to generate income. This initiative benefits the weaving groups in five villages across four subdistricts in Ratchaburi: Ban Rang Bua and Ban Rang Ao in Rang Bua Subdistrict, Chom Bueng District; Ban Khubua in Kubua Subdistrict, Mueang District; Ban Na Nong in Don Rae Subdistrict, Mueang District; and Ban Jad San in Tha Khoei Subdistrict, Suan Phueng District.

Promote continuous, inclusive, sustainable economic growth and full employment. and having valuable work

12. The Project on Knowledge Management and Enhancement of Cultural Capital and Local Wisdom to Promote Community Economy

Activity 1: Development of local bamboo shoots into community-identity products for the Ban Takoh Lang community, Suan Phueng Subdistrict, Suan Phueng District, Ratchaburi Province. This activity has resulted in unique community products such as acid-adjusted bamboo shoots, fermented bamboo shoots with soybean paste, bamboo shoot kimchi, pickled bamboo shoots, and shredded bamboo shoots.

Activity 2: Development of food menus using processed bamboo shoots for the Ban Takoh Lang community, Suan Phueng Subdistrict, Suan Phueng District, Ratchaburi Province. This activity has resulted in community products such as bamboo shoot curry puffs and steamed buns with bamboo shoot and minced pork filling.

